Biography:

Steve AOS is an economist and is the Acting Director of the Washington State Institute for Public Policy. The Institute was created by the Washington State legislature in 1983 to provide non-partisan analysis for state government in Washington State. Mr. Aos has 29 years of experience in conducting cost-benefit analyses in a wide range of public policy areas, as well as in the private sector. His current work focuses on identifying and evaluating the costs and benefits of programs and policies for reducing crime, improving educational outcomes, and reducing child abuse and neglect, teen pregnancy, and substance abuse in Washington State. Mr. Aos also has many years of experience in energy and telecommunications policies. He has worked for the Washington State Budget Office, Seattle City Light, The Northwest Power Planning Council, the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission, and he has run his own consulting firm where he wrote a newsletter on Washington States economy. He received his BA from California State University and his MS from the University of California, Irvine.
